

Statement of participation

Michael Frank

has completed the free course including any mandatory tests for:

Social construction and social constructionism

This 1-hour free course examined the terms 'social construction' and 'social constructionism' which are frequently used in the social sciences.

Issue date: 28 July 2018

www.open.edu/openlearn

This statement does not imply the award of credit points nor the conferment of a University Qualification. This statement confirms that this free course and all mandatory tests were passed by the learner. Please go to the course on OpenLearn for full details:
<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/people-politics-law/politics-policy-people/sociology/social-construction-and-social-constructionism/content-section-0>

COURSE CODE: D218_3

Social construction and social constructionism

<http://www.open.edu/openlearn/people-politics-law/politics-policy-people/sociology/social-construction-and-social-constructionism/content-section-0>

Course summary

Within the field of social sciences the terms 'social construction' and 'social constructionism' are frequently used, particularly in relation to social policy. This free course, Social construction and social constructionism, will enable you to achieve a greater definition and understanding of these terms.

Learning outcomes

By completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- define social construction and social constructionism.

Completed study

The learner has completed the following:

Section 1

Understanding social construction and social constructionism

Section 2

Conclusion